THINKING PATTERNS

Zambian diary

ABSTRACT

The book is composed of diverse life lessons. Pay attention as the transitions from one paragraph to another may mean from one lesson to the other.

Mambwe Misheal

Thinking patterns: I wrote this book due my logical understanding that humans have diverse ways of processing information that are referred to as patterns of thinking.

we as humans we are programed, it’s like a chip in a robot, the only difference is that our program allows us to encored new data by ourselves.

you and I can only operate based on the data that we have within us.

I hope up to now you have noticed that any career that you choose they is need for you to lean it first, professionally or casually. No one becomes what he/she has no idea of.

The real you is what you know most. Any man who studies much of his bible is on his way to become a religious teacher, any man who spent 70% of his life studding medical books he is on his way to become a doctor and any man who spent 70% of his life analyzing electricity is on his way to be one of the doctors of electricity.

What so ever takes up 80% attention of you mind you become that thing. The reason is very simple, let me first give an example and then logic with you for a second. I hope you all have seen mad people before and I will like to ask a question, is that PERSON you saw truly mad? If yes, which part of his/her body is mad? The answer to this question is quite simple and it’s the mind that is mad not legs, not toes, nothing else but the mind.

It’s true and I have told you that corrupt data first entered the mind like a computer virus and the whole person BECAME MAD!

Author: Misheal Mambwe

I repeat what so ever takes up 70% of you mind you become, we are in the 20th century and technical ways to corrupt humans have being developed like weapons of war. A lot of youths today find leisure on social medial, it's quite okay, but barriers have been crossed, 70% of the attention is on social medial and they have become it.

Social medial is a composite of diverse data and information, more especially that it is unpredictable characters of data (pornography, theft, criminal, love, news, robbery, sex, religious such as satanism, Christianity and so on) and that is the reason an average parent cannot predict the behavior of their children not even the devil.

An honor of advice to all of you who wish to be good guys its simple keep leaning good information.

You are the reason you are who are! If you are useless, it means you leant a lot of useless information, if are genus you leant a lot of important and useful information.

The best eyes, the best ears, the best feelings the best journey, the best friends all begins with the burning desire to fight for your purpose and all is tied to one thing God Jesus worship him in your deeds until he gives to you the map of your life. After then you will never care about anything that do not describe your purpose on earth.

Author: Misheal Mambwe

You can only understand that they is a purpose you are here for if you understand that humans don't exist by accident they is God who is not a human. If you accept that they is God Jesus I want you to ask yourself one question. why is Jesus keeping me arrive? An answer to this question your purpose on earth.

By the way they is no scientifical answer to that question and they no human logical answer to that question. The only answer to that question is your purpose.

I therefore conclude by requesting you to go and ask Jesus a question, Lord why am I here on earth. The answer may come different ways make sure you are ready to receive it in any way and any time. Thanks.

No devil can lead angels in peace likewise no angel can lead devils in peace, unless one becomes the other or otherwise, for their have contrary motives. If you want to lead people its either your motives agree with theirs or theirs with yours.

Anything taken by force is not owned it is loaned, you with pay back one day in one way or the other.

I treasure knowledge more than anything because it is the source of all value. Without knowledge even diamonds and emeralds would have no being of no use, even God would mean nothing. Which is to say there is value in everything, in everyone in heavens and on earth you only need the particular knowledge to clack down the value of that waste. Just has the waste of burnt trees can be used as charcoal fuel, its value saves thousand lives worldwide.

If your mind and your heart is at peace everything will follow suite. Let what you are thinking at the particular moment agree with what you are feeling, if not, all you do will be in conflict. e.g. if you wonder how religious carry so much power more than military, education and politics, well it will interest you to know that the leading religious sects is composed of nothing but people whose thoughts and feeling agree about what their believe in. when they think they say it is worthy to die in what we believe in and nothing else. they feel joy and pleasant to die in what they believe. However, this should just remind you that this people are always at peace even in worse situations as their hearts and mind have agreed to be die for what they believe in. this explains how far you can go when your thoughts and feeling agree, you can do what you want without worrying about anything.

Suffering exists only because weakness exist. If you are suffering you are weaky. I don’t care about a number of excuses you can make. The earth is a battle field even if you feel it to be a comfort zone. It begun long time ago when the heavens casted the devil into the earth to declare war against the habitants of earth (revelation 12vs12). It is a place where those with power inflict pain and suffering on the week, however convince your heart that the only way to survive you need to stand up again and again look the world straight in the eye and fight back.

If you want to be rich you must choose your position carefully in these games of life. Some people they are like roads they transport treasures from place to place their reward is worn out. Others like fluid pipes they channel expensive commodities from one billionaire to the other and their reward is being replace when they worn-out. Sometime the right thing to do is to be in the perfect position where a share of transactions that are going on must enter your pocket as well. You might feel rich when you walk among rich people, watch how money is printed, watch how it is being transported and watch others put it in their own pockets but still none of these activities can make you rich you will still remain poor not until you get a share.

One bottle of clean water is better for health than a tank of dirty water, sometime it is better to have few things that are important than a lot of things and yet useless.

A lot of foolish people are stubborn such people when they speak, they say they know everything, they are afraid they can’t be taught anything by anyone. However, leave such people behind and go your way.

Author: Misheal Mambwe

Its costs maturity to understand that if you take a spoon of sugar, you then take two more, there after you take five more, they will no point at which sugar will change the taste maybe taste less sweet or sweeter, it will just maintain the same sweetness regardless the quantity you take not until it is depleted. This is how longing for immorality express its self. You will find people who commit immorality they do it again and again hoping that one day one time what they will taste more joy than that which they have being enjoying, but little do they understand that the taste of immorality remains constant throughout the ages to came. These kinds of people their hearts and feelings pant to infinity just like the sprite of death its self. Analyze the sprite of death closely, you will agree with me that it ways want more and more not until God with draw it from this earth and so is the people of the same kind the only break they can take from immorality is when God draw them out of this planet.

They is no right time for anything, its either you choose when you will execute that task or someone else chooses for you. Unfortunately, most people who say they are waiting for the right time they wait and wait until someone else chooses for them only that they don’t realize.

The best way to avoid mistakes is to stop trying, you must stop trying instead you just have to do what is required of you. Trying its like a game kids play with no certainty of wining but they are certain that they are going to do it again.

A lot of funny things are not lily important don’t pay much of your attention to them.

When things became tough the only money I have is to buy needs not wants.

Let it be your last, choosing to do easy thing instead of important ones.

It surprises me to see mortal man wasting time when the immortals are afraid, they have no time to waste.

They are two possible catalysts in this in your success journey, its either you have a better vision for yourself and you are gravitating toward it or someone else has and he/she is pushing toward it. But if you are in an environment where you can’t gravitate toward a better goal and the people around you all they can see is a man suffering and begging for help. I say flee from those people and their homes.

They say a boy becomes a man when a man is needed, I have seen boy is 40 years old because a man was never needed. Growth has small relationship with time, has a matter-of-fact growth is not a product of time even though it may take time to grow. Every biological growth is as a result of simultaneous correct chemical reactions in our bodies, this reaction may be taking time to complete. This means that physical growth is influenced by the rate of change of chemical reactions.

$$\text{Physical growth} = \frac{\text{d chemical reactions}}{\text{d time}}$$ this means that the faster the chemicals react in the organism the faster the organism grow and vise-vasa. From the chemistry point of view, we can manipulate the rate of change of chemical reaction, this means we can allow an organism to grow at the rate that we wish. A boy can become a man when we want him to.

I wished that I had not talked about how boy can become a man mentally, because we all know that mental growth is as a result of quantity of information that we have in our brain cells.

If a boy can learn information at the speed that is more than that of an average man, he can attain a point when he can think like a man but within the time shorter than the required time.

The combination of the physical simulation that as been explained and mental simulation explained a boy can become a man when a man is need because the present man is not needed, when the present man does not have the capacity to do the tasks at hand.

I saw how the insects were attracted toward a lamp lit in the dark, how the wild birds were attracted toward the pools of water, how the green plants gravitate toward sunlight stimuli, how men gravitate toward women and women toward men alike.

Author: Misheal Mambwe

Then I sat down and rerise that attraction only occur when there forces that are pulling the two parties together. If we want something to come near us by means of attraction, we have to generate the attraction forces that will draw the other parties' attention toward us. The attraction forces are generated by adjusting the attitudes, behaviors, characters, possessions and appearance to the point where someone or something we want will like the parameters we project and get attracted to us or us toward that thing.

I have seen and heard where people say this child behaves just like his father, mother or uncle etc.

But when I sat down and logically analyzed their views I can to a very important conclusion that information is not passed from generation to generation via blood, if someone is like the other in terms of behaviors and characters it is because one leant from the other or otherwise.

Then I said a child can't have the behaviors and characters of the parents unless he/she first learn from the parents. It may surprise you to know that a lot of children at 12 years and below behave like their mothers because at this age mother spent 60% of their time with the children compared to their fathers. NOTE, if you want to locally analyze the characters of mothers pay attention to their children within the stated age range.

At age 15 – 25 years, boys begin to take after their fathers since this is the time when fathers spent 50% of their time with the male child teaching the child how to do work.

Author: Misheal Mambwe

At age 25 – 65, at this age men and women begin to behave unpredictable. It is at this age when men and women begin to behave like things that they admire, friends, celebrities, career prospects, religious sect and traditional cultures. At this point they assume total responsibilities for themselves.
At age 65-100 and above, most people begin to behave like a farewell (good bye letter) to the lest of the world, some behave like a good farewell and others a bad one. In most cases they choose the part of their life which they would like to redo(repeat) maybe childhood adventures, then you will see them behaving like kids. Other's youth age, so you will see them trying to adjust their attitudes, they put-on youth's cloths, walk and talk like youths. Others the early days of intimacy and so you see them display unconditional love to everyone surrounding them.
Whoever you are, be a good one, I said to myself one day. All human beings have the potential to become what they wish to. The only conditions import is (i) they are still arrive (ii) they realize they can (iii) they start working on achieving their goals. In my study of humanity more especially myself, by saying myself I mean I have spent quite some time with a pen and paper analysing who am I. When I was born (came on earth) my parent dint know who I was and almost no one in the world knew me. So my parent held a family meeting asking themselves only one question, "what shall we call him?". Thereafter I was given a name, "Mambwe Misheal", this was my I identity to I identify me from every one else in the society. Years later I discovered that my name was just an I dentification mark so I began to search for the answer to the question who am I and why am I here?

Every human life goal began in his/her head has a wish. I wish I can be a police man someone say, another say I wish I can a doctor likewise others say I wish I can be a famer. But the desire to accomplish their wishes made their wishes to become their goals in life. I speak to those without proper goal in your life, your goal is equal to your desire plus what you wish to be (Desire + Wish = Goal). To archive your goal, you must plan carefully how you will go about it. Its like a chess game if you want to win you must plan your moves. However, it is very much important to plot how you are going to archive your goals because acting without planning its planning to fail. A good plan must include anticipating even the least possible factor that may lead to fairer. After all analysis have being made then find the effective solution for the potential source of fairer. A good plan must explain to you clearly why it will be impossible for you to fail, it must become the basic reason why you should not fail. The primary reason that explains why you will not fail is because you have a Strategy. A strategy gives you the mechanism to escape the life traps, the mechanism to win life risks, to be almost always lucky and to meet the opportunities that must work well with your plan. Important constitution Every country, town and city it is governed by a set of rules and laws even God in heaven has rules by which govern all his creation. This should just remind you how important is the constitution. The constitution am talking about is that which every human should write for him/herself not for your wife, not for children and not even for your friends but just for you obey it. I write not about that which should oppress other in order to favour you but that which should disprin your behaviours in time when you misbehave and coach your actions in time you lack knowledge. observe this, when you respect the rules of the country, you will be like by the government just like if you respect the rules of the company, you will be like by your boss. Same is the case when write your constitution, if you disobey your rules, you will dislike yourself but when you obey you rules likewise you love your thoughts and this become the genesis of self-confidence.

Let your mind understand that they are no cheap days on earth. The price of every day is worth your life. Sacrifice yours to buy it so that can have power over it and live well.

Wisdom is cheap to the fools and so they don’t care about it.

The fall of every greatens is trust, as the lord Jesus say, “love your neighbor as you love yourself,” so I say trust yourself as you should trust GOD only.

Between success and fairer lies a link, a “to and from” link determines the certainty of success. To get rich you have to know where to find the treasure and where to take it. If this link runs perfect you are assured of success.

It takes much courage to love learning every new important data than it takes to raise from the sick bed.

The greatest factors of fairer does not lie in the environments around us but in our minds

The biggest disappointment you will ever meet is to choose following your emotions than your logic.

As the clouds looks small when viewed at a distance, so is the down fall of a man in his eyes when he is just thinking about it and it has not come on him yet. As you approach the sky you will notice that the cloud you saw is too big that you have to go through it, now you move your head left to right, up and down to see the edges of the same cloud. So is the down fall when it is right in front of you leaving you no option but to go through it.

It is better to solve mega problems while they are still small and to find the right direction in the mid of the bush while is day.

Being jealous of someone it's like taking poison and expecting some else to die. The pain you feel it has only the capacity to harm yourself, spill the jealous and walk away.

Every day when I work up early morning two questions pop up in my mind, 1. If not now when? 2. If not me who? And this stand as a reason I have to do it now.

Author: Misheal Mambwe

They is no such a thing as poor people they is only poor logic, because poor logic is what makes people run out of what to do or even loses every thin they have in life.

It is better to hold hands with the enemies if they can do the job than friends who cannot do the job.

At my heart all the feelings are gone. The only feeling remaining is when I feel like, they no place to go where am wanted most, I only believe in my dreams, I work hard with people who can work.

A lot of people have dreams but they don’t work hard likewise others work hard but they don’t have goals, dreams and vision. But entrepreneurs they combine both dreams and hard working.

Do not admire to win everything, it is the shortest way to become a monster because everyone will think you are competing with them and they will hate you. If they are ten rabbits in the bush chess one when chess ten you may kill nothing.

Even when you set priorities and time to achieve them but in you is a clock that that counts automatically, you heart it bits, counts toward your end like a ticking clock, achieve your goals and dreams as fast as you can before it counts 00:00.

To test myself I asked, what do I want to do? what do I have? and what am I willing to offer in exchange with my dreams?

Author: Misheal Mambwe

It is very risk to walk in this world like me, do things my way, say the way I say and yet you don't see the world the way do. This because you can understand the things I do and say but you will not understand at least why I do the things I do. When you in this position of being my duplicate all that you do is at risk of collapsing.

The bible says do not swear, I spent some time wondering why? "Is God forbidding us from giving him our word?" I asked myself. Later on, I understood that we only swear if we want to keep our words and not when we need to. However, this is the problem, we swear against the important things in our lives because we would like to do those important tasks. I say we don't have to swear when we need to do the particular task.

You and I have observed this. When you travel long distances regardless the direction you head you will notice that every road(route) has/have ascending and descending hill slops but what rely matters is where the road is taking you. In our lives we choose to live by diverse life styles. Each of them has both sad and funny moments and even in these moments you must not forget to ask yourself where you are heading because that is what is very important.

Excuse me when I fail to wait for tomorrow, next week or next year before do what I have to. One night I was waiting for tomorrow to come so that I can do what I needed to do on that day. So, I waited, I waited hoping to meet my tomorrow but when the hour came, I found that tomorrow became today, next week became this week and next year became this year. Then I realized I only have today, this week and this year to do what I have to. Since tomorrow, next week and next year never exist.

In my miserable life of sin, I did not learn a lot but few did I share with you. God is ready to forgive you once you forgive yourself. In most cases the only thing that stands between you and your redemption is your inability to let go of immoral life. You have to be sorry for yourself, for the time and effort you once wasted, you forgive yourself by willingly leave your poor behaviors and head toward the light. I say they no hope for cure to a person who swallows poison and resists to vomit despite being surrounded by serval doctors. God always stretches his hand towards the lost souls, unfortunately the souls are not will to vomit their inequities and hold the hand of the lord to follow his lead.

I too have fallen for temptations of various kind before. Sometimes I stood back on my feet and other time I enjoyed sleeping than to work up and fight the monsters that pushed me down. Sometime we pretend as if we want help(rescue) from our inequities but the truth is, deep down in our heart exist the desire for the taste of wine, bear, sex etc. little do we understand that the rescue team does not come from the outside but inside deep down our hearts. We can't be delivered! One of the mistakes I made was to deceive the person that was sent to rescue me when I was in war. Once he found out about my discerption, he immediately dropped me, right before he departed, he said, "I have left you because I don't know a manner of a person you are, all you said about yourself was a lie. This world is a cruel place I can't risk moving any further with a creature I can't see and I don't know. Good bye", he said and left. Rescue exist inside our hearts we just have to explain our true intentions to ourselves. The bible says when you know the truth it shall set you free. Once you explain to yourself who you are and what you do or have, your body and soul will understand your true motives you will have inner peace that means you have been set free.

A million people repent every single day. When you do, I say leave your inequities behind and close that chapter rest they follow you. In your new chapter I advise never to expect anything from anyone especially not help. You see friend, that new chapter is blank, the only thing that will appear there is what you write down for yourself. That is to say, you are free to start another immoral story of yourself if you wish to, but I say it's not a good idea at least not for you, I mean why closing the previous chapter of yourself.

immoral life if you knew you wanted to keep it up. I say they is no wisdom in such acts at least not even one.

Am aware of the sensation you feel about your past, your heart beat rises when you see nudity, hear music from the nearby pub, taste of bear and perfume of stolen money. You are almost drowned toward it all. Once you are born again it's not the good time to relax, stay hidden and keep your head down, its high time you picked up the pen and be the author of your new self. Be persistence and consistence for you have to know that you rebel against your old self and everything around you that may not be helpful in the new life.

Men of this world I wish I had not said this but looking into the hearts of people, I see them broken when they have nothing, no money, no friends and no properties to rely on. I say you remind me of those days when I just stated it all, I had no thing, no importance and at least with no life experience. Then I fought for my life, I fought and I fought again until I had/have built whatever I have/had. I say luck for you, you have nothing but at least life experience. You remember very well how you built your riches, don't you? Men of this world it's not a good time to retreat and back off. As for me I did not back off when I was nothing and am not backing off now. I gave up not when I had nothing this very time is no difference am not giving up. I did not fail when I started this battle nor could I fail to start again.

“Almost nothing works the first time”, said Bob Passion. It’s true and I say to you that the plan works if you work according to the plan. Most people fail to work according to the plan the first time they try something new and so almost everything fails the first time you try it.

When you don’t get employed by someone it may just mean that you have to employee someone, always remember that.

If something is impossible it may just mean that it may not work the way you are doing it. Maybe you just have to try another way and another way after the other until it is done.

When you have some effort, pull you self together and figure out how best you can utilize it. You see! It’s the same effort that is used to build up and the same is used to pull down and sometimes you can use it to dig your own grave. I say watch your actions.

Strictly speaking, a perfect idea does not exist. Every idea comes with some setbacks. one question I have to ask is, will you be able to handle the setbacks that accompanies that idea of yours? if not then that idea is a bad one. If you can, then you have a good idea not just the perfect one.

Some people you never see them slap you, not because they don’t want to but because they don’t have to, if they have others to do it for them. In most cases these people usually smile at you and so you end up chasseing the demons away while you site and drink with the devil. I say watch your back.
